Gold Oil from the Past to the Present

Gold is one of the unique minerals in nature, which has been used since long ago, even since the time of the pharaohs of Egypt, with the processing done in addition to jewellery, the possibility of benefiting from its properties on the skin for beauty and rejuvenation, as well as its oral use has been provided.

In today's era, with a lot of demand in the field of beauty and health based on benefiting from nature, and with the updating of the oil therapy industry and the variety of edible oils luxuriously and especially, we see a variety of products based on gold.

Mika Green now offers this valuable oil to its customers as a raw material in the production of cosmetics and mixed beauty or massage oils or as a final product.

Application of

Gold in Industries

- Cosmetics and Personal Care:

Gold has anti-bacterial and anti-inflammatory properties that help bring oxygen to the skin to renew cells. The ions in gold help to stimulate the cells, nerves and vessels of your body. This leads to improved blood circulation which increases the metabolism of skin cells and leads to healthy skin. Also, as the softest metals, it is easily absorbed by the skin and affects the cellular level.

- Food and Beverage:

Gold does not have any special taste, and no special properties of gold are known for the body, but it does not harm either, so the use of gold sheets as a beauty and luxury to make food, dessert or drink has only a luxury and decorative aspect.

- Topical Treatments:

In addition to the beauty and care properties that have been mentioned, gold oil is used for body massage to reduce skin inflammation, and muscle pain, and heal superficial wounds.

- Other Industries:

considering that other uses of gold are not in Mica Green's field of activity, we will only mention it briefly; in addition to being the base of the jewellery industry, gold is; it is also used in the medical, fashion and clothing industries, photography, electronics, aerospace, astronautics, satellites, special war tools, automobile manufacturing, etc.
